CAB Abstracts

Centre for Agriculture and Bioscience (CAB) International is an inter-governmental development and information organisation based in the United Kingdom. CABI, previously the "Commonwealth Agricultural Bureaux", was established in 1910 as the Entomological Research Committee. It focuses primarily on agricultural and environmental issues in the developing world. CAB Abstracts helps researchers to review all scientific works, learn from past techniques and assess long-term trends and changes. CAB Abstracts provide researchers instant access to over 10 million records from 1910 onwards, with over 3,50,000 abstracts added each year. Researchers get the fullest global picture for any topic related to agriculture from over 120 countries in 50 languages from more than 8000 serials, books and conference proceedings which ensure unparalleled coverage. CABI's full text repository of over 4,00,000 documents is integrated with CABAbstracts which includes journal article, conference papers, and other grey literature from 81 countries.
